FINANCIAL.

There was no change on Madison street yesterday in the financial situation, indeed so stantly do the banks report "everything ust the same," that we feel inclined to call the street, where they are principally located,
"the street of the eternal ditto." The New York Herald reports: "The following are the rates of exchange on New York at the undermentioned cities to-day: Savannah, buying 3-16, selling 5-16: Charleston stiffer, obtainable at 1-5; New Orleans, commercial Philadelphi 16, bank 36: Cincinuati very firm, buying par, selling 1-10; St. Louis, 75 premium, and Chicago, 50 premium." The rate here yes-Chicago. 50 premium. The rate here yesterday was on New York and eastern par buying 14 premium selling; New Orleans 14 discount, selling at par. Fall River sight is taken at par. New York Post says: "The price of silver in London is 52% d per ounce, according to the reports of the bullion dealers. At the New York equivalent to-day the bullion in a 412\frac{1}{2}-grain dollar would be worth $0.9087 gold; that in a trade dollar is worth $0.9253, and that in two halves, four quarters or ten dimes is worth $0.8509." In our local market no transactions of interest were June. reported, it was "ditto" there also. The St. Louis Republican notices the strange fact that there are people who persuade themselves October.... that there is not currency enough in the country to do an active business on, therefore we have dull times. The Republican says: "The condition of things is to be lamented, certainly; but it is not true that a firm; 2:35, barely steady; 3:10, firm. In our market there was a good demand; holders were very firm, and an advance was secured of le on all grades but good middling, and on that Closed firm at the advance. The Bulletia, of Monday, reported a firmer tone, holders less anxious to effect sales. The Bulletin adds: "Our market remains above a parity of Liverpool, but the cables were better to day, and this had a tendency to infuse a little more confidence. On contracts there was a pretty good business for the day, but much irregularity, and a strong contest between the opposing elements for advantage with the fluctuations, frequent and sharp. At e opening the turn was upward some 10@ points on the more favorable dispatches om abroad, but this was met by strong opposition and increased offerings, supposed to come from some of the recent 'bull' operators, which wiped out nearly all the improve-ment. This, however, was followed by an-other rally, and finally by a strong effort the market was closed steady at 6@8 points above last evening. The movements, as a whole, had a somewhat ambiguous cost, and were no doubt due in a great measure to 'room'
